NEW

Vending machines especially for you

Not only does Les Arcs / Peisey-Vallandry provide free water fountains across the ski area, but also, at the top of the new Vallandry lift there is a vending machine with local products such as Beaufort AOP and cured meats from the Gaec Alpin at Peisey Nancroix. More amazing still are the ESF Peisey-Vallandry vending machines that distribute for free organic sunscreen from the Biarritz Laboratoires at the two children's ski schools and in the sales' offices.

Saving energy and street lights

Peisey-Nancroix, which received the accolade of "Villages Étoilés" in 2015, continues to use low consumption bulbs for its street lighting which is turned off between 12 and 6am to ensure a better quality of darkness. This action not only helps to improve the quality of sleep and thus the health of our inhabitants and preserve biodiversity but it also reduces the financial cost to the collectivity. With the same aim, Landry recently fitted LED bulbs to its street lights and has decided to turn off the street lighting during the interseason in Vallandry.

Making our visitors aware of the importance of the preserving biodiversity

By signing up to the Vanoise National Park charter in 2015, Peisey-Nancroix expressed its support for and its willingness to share in the Region's plan for sustainable development which it continues to promote with true ambition. Every winter, in partnership with the Vanoise National Park, Peisey-Vallandry organises events for our visitors in order to raise awareness for the efforts being made to preserve the local fauna and flora. The ski area Les Arcs / Peisey-Vallandry is also committed to the creation of new spaces dedicated to the awareness of our biodiversity, such as the viewing platform at the Aiguille Rouge and the Mountain Animal Museum at the top of the new Vallandry gondola.

Developing renewable energies

Today, 100% of the electricity used by the ski area is already provided by renewable energy (mostly hydroelectric power). Its aim is to self-produce 25% of its electrical consumption by 2030 thanks to renewable energies.

Reducing our carbon footprint

In 2019, Peisey-Nancroix installed two charging stations for electric cars opposite the Tourist Office. A plan to increase this number is currently under review and should be deployed in the coming years in the ski resort. The domain Les Arcs / Peisey-Vallandry is also trying to reduce its carbon footprint. At this time, the domain represents only 2% of the total carbon emissions of a ski holiday. The hope is to achieve zero emissions by 2030. Car-sharing is also encouraged by different members of the community; for example ESF Peisey-Vallandry and the SIVOM provide free shuttle buses between the different villages to limit the use of cars. "La Lonzagne", a gondola lift between villages, is free to allow the inhabitants of Peisey and its visitors to come up to the resort without using their car.

Observing, conserving and protecting our biodiversity

Since 2012, the area has set up different observation points in order to identify and map out the flora and fauna that need protection and to rehabilitate natural species while protecting our precious resource: water. The Environment Observatory allows the ski area to access key information to understand the environmental functioning of its surroundings and to plan its development – for example to take into account protected species when siting pylons.

85% of the ski area is in its natural state. We are responsible for conserving this asset.

Our short term objective is to protect and conserve our natural environment by offering activities which enhance the attractiveness of our region whilst committing to sustainable tourism:

1m² impacted / 1m² reestablished.

In 2017, Peisey-Vallandry received the accolade of "Green Resort" thanks to our holidays orientated towards emotions, nature, authenticity and respect for the environment. Today, we continue this quest for sustainable tourism.

DISCOVER AN EXCEPTIONAL MOUNTAIN DOMAIN

ALPINE SKI AREA

NEW

VALLANDRY:
THE NEW MUST-SEE AREA OF THE DOMAIN

Reach 2,138 m in only 6 minutes

By replacing the Vallandry chairlift with a new luxury, 10-person gondola, skiers can go from the bottom of the slopes (1,650 m) to the new place-to-be in only a few minutes.

Progress at your own pace

At the top of the new gondola, there will be a brand-new beginner's area dedicated to those wishing to improve their skiing in complete safety. This area will include 3 different zones: "Premières Glisses" for those very first slips on skis, "Premiers Virages" with its own draglift for mastering the turns and finally for those first real descents "Premières Descentes" down the fun "Forêt des Pitchouns" slope.

A relaxing lounge area which highlights the local heritage

The idea behind the relaxing lounge area is to offer skiers and pedestrians a place to unwind for a moment on the panoramic terrace. Those stopping for a snack or a break are also welcome inside this haven of elegance. It also highlights local heritage thanks to the permanent exhibition of traditional objects from the valley of Peisey-Vallandry and the examples of herb beds, all locally sourced. This free access space offers toilets and free Wi-Fi.

Discover the animals of the mountains

In a similar vein, a Mountain Animal Museum will be created on the first floor of the relaxing lounge area where more than 30 different species will be presented. This unique space, open to all, has the goal of letting visitors discover and learn about protecting the mountain flora and fauna. It has been conceived and implemented in close collaboration with the Vanoise National Park. The museum will also be a place to discover more about this magical ecosystem, with talks by experts from the National Park.

An exemplary construction

Solar panels will be installed on the roof of the gondola to continue the development of producing renewable energies in the resort. Along with that, a system whereby the heat of the machinery can be recovered and reused within the installation itself is to be put in place. Rainwater will also be collected and redistributed where needed.

A space accessible in summer and winter

If in winter the gondola lets skiers reach a multitude of slopes, in summer walkers and bikers can also take advantage of it to reach the many dedicated trails and tracks.

The Mine Museum

Peisey-Nancroix was formally known as “Les Monts d’Argent” (silver mountains in English), highlighting the importance of the mines in our region in the 18th and 19th century. During the 1st empire from 1802 to 1814, l’Ecole Française des Mines took up residence in Peisey-Nancroix. Traces can still be found of this era in the Nordic centre of Peisey-Vallandry and you are free to explore them with the help of the information panels.

Visit the ultra-modern GAEC ALPIN

Every Wednesday between 4:30pm and 5:30pm the GAEC Alpin gives you the opportunity to visit the farm during milking. From an overhead gallery, you can observe the ultra-modern space with 26 stalls and a rotary mechanism which means the cows are only confined while they are being milked. A technological gem.

The sanctuary of Notre-Dame des Vernettes

Regarded as the prize jewel in the Baroque crown of Tarentaise, Notre-Dame des Vernettes was built on a pasture at 1,816 m at the foot of the Aiguille Rousse and facing the stunning Bellecôte range. According to local legend, the location of the sanctuary originates from a spring with miraculous virtues. A first chapel, dedicated to Notre-Dame de Pitié was built near the spring. Then, in 1720, a larger chapel was started which took 80 years to complete. The sanctuary has been restored several times over the last 200 years, but still retains its original aspect and is now classed as an historic monument. Thanks to the pastoral community of Peisey-Nancroix, Notre-Dame des Vernettes is open to the public every day of the year from 9am to 5pm free of charge.

NEW RESTAURANTS

La Fragola Di Neve & La Trattoria:
when Piedmont marries Savoy

The altitude restaurant everyone was waiting for! Located just below the Derby chairlift in Peisey-Vallandry, where several slopes cross, this complex is composed of a snack bar on the ground floor, the Fragola Di Neve, and a restaurant on the 1st floor, the Trattoria. For lovers of Savoy and Italian food, Paolo Sola, the owner and manager is delighted to propose delights that pay tribute to his Italian origins and his love of Savoy cuisine. On the menu for example, you will find Focaccias in the snack bar and at the Trattoria fresh pasta made on site with an Italian-imported machine no less. You can enjoy your food on the superbly sunny terrace with amazing views across the valley. The mix of wood and metal decor creates a warm yet modern atmosphere. Paolo is looking forward to making this the unmissable experience of your holiday.

Blanche Murée:
a family story that continues

Blanche Murée is above all a family dream. Formally a pastoral chalet, the building was transformed into a restaurant in 1993 on the initiative of two brothers (Claude and Thierry Buthod) and their cousin (Albert Garçon). After 28 years of fun and good food, they have decided to take off their aprons and pass them on to their nephew Melvyn Marchand-Maillet. Having trained in some of the best mountain top spots and now manager of a restaurant in Annecy, his solid experience will stand him in good stead to take over this Peisey-Vallandry institution. Whilst keeping the warm and friendly atmosphere of the place, Melvyn is adding a personal touch by creating a "skis-on" snack bar. He has a new traditional menu, but regulars will still be able to enjoy the famous Blanche Murée signature dish: the tartiflette. And for those who like to party Melvyn is planning DJ sessions to liven up the terrace that nestles discreetly in the Blanche Murée forest.

THREE PLACES TO EAT MODERN CUISINE

La Table d'Emma:
a gastronomic delight worthy of a top Chef

Plant grower by profession and self-taught chef, Emma Malfettes honed her cooking skills as a private chef, during the winter seasons in Courchevel, Meribel and Val d'Isere then in the summer on private yachts. It was here that she met Tony Parker and chuffed for him. Since then, Emma has structured and perfected her skills at the Ferrandi cookery school in Paris and with the Michelin starred Chef Michel Guérard famous for his healthy recipes. She then decided to gather her pans and open her own restaurant in Peisey-Vallandry. Emma offers a variety of refined dishes inspired by her travels and her Mediterranean origins, using seasonal ingredients. A culinary voyage you will not be able to resist!
<https://en.peisey-vallandry.com/restaurant/la-table-d-emma.html>

Le Cœur de Vall:
contemporary recipes with a traditional flavour

Since receiving the accolade of "Maître Restaurateur" in 2019 which is a guarantee of fresh, local and homemade food, the restaurant Le Cœur de Vall continues to innovate and proposes a menu combining modernity with tradition. Originally from Brittany, and having both studied at Hotel School; Floriane Le Rouzic and Sébastien Botteau decided to move to Savoy in 2008 to experience the seasonaire lifestyle. 9 years on after several seasons working together, they decided to settle in Peisey-Vallandry and bought Le Cœur de Vall. Proud of their reward, they continue to create succulent seasonal dishes to the delight of their customers. Their delicious cuisine made with local products is not to be missed!
<https://en.peisey-vallandry.com/restaurant/le-coeur-de-vall.html>

Le Petit Hibou:
original and delicate dishes

Carolyn and Dave had been living in Peisey-Nancroix for 15 years when they seized the opportunity to buy the restaurant/gite previously known as Les Chabottes. They have transformed it into a modern, minimalist and tranquil space called the Petit Hibou. This international couple (Carolyn is a New Zealander and Dave is English) work together although each has their own roles. Carolyn in the kitchen and David out front. Carolyn has 25 years professional cheffing experience working around the world in cafes, restaurants, private villas, yachts and chateaux. The restaurant features modern cuisine with her travel experiences flavouring the menu. Creative, fresh and interesting ingredients feature highly with wholesome, healthy options suitable for vegetarians. David's passion is the Mt Houblon nano brewery that can be found in the cave under the bar, producing hop heavy IPAs and milk oatmeal porter. The artisan brews are not available anywhere else. The Petit Hibou is a great address offering something a little different to the usual Savoyard fare.

CHRISTMAS / NEW YEAR'S EVE

Peisey-Vallandry will be celebrating Christmas and New Year in style. This year, we have invested in new magical decorations to light up our streets, squares, shops and restaurants. There will be several special events such as the ESF torchlit descent, Father Christmas with his reindeers, as well as fireworks on Friday 24th December in Vallandry and the 31st in Plan Peisey. Plenty to make little and big eyes sparkle!

This year, Christmas and New Year fall on a Saturday. To help you organise your celebrations, Peisey-Vallandry Ré-servation is offering tailor-made stays of 6, 7 or 8 days! The key word is flexibility!

FEBRUARY

CROQ'RANDO

The 4th edition of our special foodie ski-touring outing will take place in February 2022 organised in partnership with Movement, the Vanoise National Park and ESF Peisey-Vallandry. A date not to be missed by fans (but beginners too) of ski-touring and local delicacies. Yes! You can be a food lover and enjoy sports. This event is all about the local population and holiday makers celebrating physical endurance and pleasure. The participants set off together in the spirit of shared values rather than competition. On the menu: local specialities and some surprises. At the finishing line, smiles all round and swapping of telephone numbers to meet up next year. A cult event not to be missed!

LET'S MEET UP IN SPRING

The mountain is not only about white slopes and long summer walks. Each season has its particular charm. Peisey-Vallandry, with its authentic lively villages is happy to welcome you all year round. Here are 5 good reasons to visit Peisey-Vallandry in spring.

1. ENJOY THE TRANQUILLITY

No traffic jams or standing in line at the shops. This is the ideal time to have a break, relax and make the most of this beautiful space to revitalise yourself. The days are getting longer so you have more time to be outside and soak up the natural vitamins that are vital for our well-being. Enjoy bathing in the warmth and sunshine of this peaceful environment.

2. SPECIAL OFFERS AN ACCOMMODATION

Season over = prices lower! With fewer people around, accommodation prices are lower. Get in touch with Peisey-Vallandry Réservation and see what they can offer you. <https://en.peisey-vallandry.com/>

3. EXPERIENCE OUR EVERYDAY LIFESTYLE

Visit our villages to see what real mountain life is like. You will probably meet Sylvain, a local farmer, taking his cows up to pasture or maybe Vanessa and Maryse as they nurture the village flowerbeds. You might see Maxime, a carpenter, working on a magnificent chalet roof. Springtime is definitely the best time to immerse yourself in the village life of Peisey-Vallandry.

4. ENJOY SPORT

The winter season might be over but sport is still on the agenda! The peaks are still snow-capped so it's a great opportunity to put on your touring skis – even in May. Or you can put on your walking boots and explore the different paths around Peisey-Vallandry. Stroll along the river banks of the Isère or hike up the mountain in the sunshine to enjoy the snow and grass. If it's really hot, contact H2o and you can cool down with some watersports. What better way to boost your spirit?

5. WITNESS NATURE'S AWAKENING

Spring is the blossoming season. Fauna and flora come to life to the amazement of all. Everywhere in Peisey-Vallandry you can see the flowers blossoming... ready to be picked by the local children in the time honored tradition. The migrating birds return home and the hibernating animals emerge. The marmots come out of their warrens and shriek to let you know they are there; the ibex are now visible at the refuge du Mont Pourri – do they want to join in a selfie?
